- Mashburn renovated an old warehouse for the College's School of Culinary Arts, which provides unique teaching spaces that allow students to learn in a creative yet cutting-edge environment.
- Interior and exterior renovations provide new instructional classrooms, administrative, meeting spaces, and commercial kitchen areas.
- Work included site preparations; parking and landscaping; new facades at main entrance; student entrance areas; and decorative concrete sidewalks with concrete brick pavers.
- The project scope also included new HVAC, plumbing, fire protection and electrical additions to support new offices classrooms and meeting rooms.
